3 As the Shekdars training School at Bangalore has been closed those that wish to qualify themselves for Shekdars &c have successfully undergone a course of training in the Mysore Engineering School or Rao Bahadur Arcot Narainswamy Mudr Technical School at Bangalore

4 About 175 of the present Shekdars are qualified according to it to the new rules and it may perhaps be desirable to have a class to train others to gradually replace the old Shekdars who are not qualified to receive training - The Hd Masters of the Engineering School suggests that a Separate class may be opened for the Shekdars the Course extending over a year - The course in the Bangalore training School was only for Six months

6 The Subjects taught in the Engineering School for Shekdars candidates are

1) Building—Drawing & Estimating (Elementary)
2) Building materials & Construction
3) ~~Hydraulics & Irrigation works~~ Mensuration
4) Earthwork & Road making & Land Repairs—
5) Chain Surveying—

These subjects are taught for both Shekdars & Engineering candidates in the same class and what the Headmaster of the Engineering Schools now says is that inasmuch as Students who have merely passed the Mysore Lower Secondary Exam^n (without undergoing the course for the Matriculation Exam^n), have to be admitted to the Shekdars class, these Students cannot be taught in common with the Engineering Students who are Matriculates or, were at least in the VI Forms at the time of their admission, apparently because the grasping power of the latter will ~~apparently~~ be higher and a higher Standard of teaching is necessary for them

In the discussions which led up to the order referred to above the general educational qualification was reduced mainly because of the dearth of matriculates who were willing to take the Shikdari training and because of the extraordinary and excessive leave with which the matriculation was then conducted with the introduction of the School final leaving certificate scheme these reasons no longer hold good and it is a matter for consideration whether the qualification at least should not be restored upon as regards future recruits & if this should be adopted there would not be any necessity to have a separate class for training Shikdari candidates

15 Ow. The chief reason for reducing the qualification required for Shekdars was the extraordinary severity of the matriculation Exam. Now that the School Final scheme has been introduced, it is a point for consideration whether the minimum qualification for the Shekdars ought not be fixed as Matriculation or the School Final as suggested by the Rev Comr.

In Government Order No 4371/L R 97-08-4 dated the 5th January 1909, the School for the training of Sheikdars was abolished with effect from the middle of January 1909, and it was directed that selection to the post of Sheikdars should be made out of those who have successfully undergone a course of training in the Engineering School at Mysore or Arcot Narayanswamy Mudaliar's Technical School at Bangalore

5

2 Owing to the dearth of qualified men it was also directed, in Government Order No 1970-80/Edn 122-10 dated the 30th August 1912 that the standard of general educational qualification prescribed for Sheikdars be lowered from the Matriculation to the English Lower Secon ary Examination

Paper under disposal"

3 The Inspector General of Education represents that with this low standard the Sheikdari candidates cannot understand the teaching imparted to Suboverseer candi dates in the Engineering School at Mysore whose lowest qualification is that they should have read at least one year in the VI Form and that it is not possible to combine the two sets of pupils together without prejudice to the progress of both

"Paper under disposal - No II & III

4 As the new Sheikdari class opened from 1st July 1913 the Inspector General has in anticipation of sanction, entertained two teachers on Rs 30 each per mensem and has been incurring other incidental charges amounting to Rs 47 per mensem

Pages 13 & 14 of note

The First Councillor recommends that the extra cost may, as proposed, be sanctioned for a period of one year There is no financial objection

6 I solicit His Highness's sanction to incur the above expenditure temporarily for one year
